WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

Each participant will create, write, direct and edit a 5-minute video project. This 16-week Introductory workshop is intensive, transformative and lots of fun!

You will develop a story idea, write a script, draw storyboards, create shot lists, operate cameras and compose shots, set-up lights & sound, direct actors and manage crew, edit, send your film to film festivals and beyond.

Access to cameras and Mac computers is extremely helpful though it is not a requirement.

FOUNDER

Madeleine Lim is the Executive Director of QWOCMAP. She is an award-winning filmmaker with 20+ years of film and video experience. Her films have been featured at international film festivals around the world, universities, museums and broadcast on PBS. She is also an Adjunct Professor at the University of San Francisco where she teaches Video Production.

MISSION

Queer Women of Color Media Arts Project (QWOCMAP) creates, exhibits and distributes new films that address the vital social justice issues that concern queer women of color and our multiple communities, to create systemic change through art, activism and community building. Since 2003, over 140 films have been created by our QWOCMAP filmmakers.
